Norwich Produces a Rarity.
Rev. C. Seymour Bullock of All Souls church, New London, came across a pastel and water color painting in Norwich last week which interested him greatly and is considered a rarity. The subject is the old sidewheeler steamer Connecticut which ran between Norwich, New London and New York before the civil war.
The painting was done by a Bridgeport artist and is said to be the only one of the Connecticut in existence.
That steamer was one of the first large steamships to be operated and the Worcester was the only steam propelled craft which preceded her from this port. The painting was exhibited in 1883. Mr. Bullock secured an excellent copy of it.

Uncasville.

PART OF WOMAN'S BODY FOUND AT MILLSTONE.

Evidence of What May Have Been a Serious Crime.

Evidence of what may have been a serious crime was brought to light Sunday evening when the lower portion of a human torso and the thighs were found on the shore of Millstone point. The gruesome find was made by two boys who were swimming in the vicinity and who communicated the fact to Henry Gardner at Millstone. Dr. G. Maynard Minor, medical examiner of the town of Waterford, ordered the find removed to the undertaker's rooms of Robert H. Byles in New London, where it will be viewed by Coroner Franklin H. Brown of Norwich this morning.

The remains were in such a state of decomposition that it was almost impossible to determine whether it is the torso of a man or woman. On Monday, however, it was decided to be that of a woman. A portion of the spine is exposed without a particle of flesh.

It is the opinion of the medical examiner that the joints of the body had been disarticulated at the points mentioned and that the remains were the remains of a woman. The bones, he thinks might be due to decomposition from the action of the water.

ANOTHER LONE LOBSTERMAN.

Stonington Man Accused by Warden, Proved He Had Never Been Lobster Fishing in His Life.

Manual Starr was arraigned in the Stonington town court Monday morning charged with violating the state laws on short lobsters. Starr was arrested Saturday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Broughton on information furnished by Game Warden Pease and Davis.

He pleaded not guilty to the charges and was able to prove an alibi. Starr, who is employed by the Alwood Machine company, admitted that he had violated the state law on Sunday, July 28, by fishing and catching the short lobsters in Fishers Island sound near Wick Rock.

He proved that on the day in question and at the time he was engaged in cleaning a hall for the Mechanics band. He also proved that he had never been lobster fishing in his life.
He was represented by Attorney Herbert W. Rathbun of Mystic.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS ROWBOAT.

Nathaniel E. Wilbur of Noank Was After Clams—Heart Trouble.

Hanging over the side of a rowboat, which was adrift in Clammers' cove near Groton Long Point, the body of Nathaniel E. Wilbur of Noank, about 60 years old, was found Monday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock.

The body was first noticed by a young girl, whose attention was attracted by the rowboat adrift and the object hanging over the side. She reported the matter to people nearby, who notified Medical Examiner E. W.
Howes of Groton. Wilbur was dressed in a bathing suit, and had started out on a clamming expedition. The cause of his death the medical examiner found to be heart trouble.

Runaways Taken Back.

The Worcester police came here on Saturday and took back Conetta Zingerella 14, and Tony Vittoretto, 22, who had run away Thursday night from that city. A marriage between the two is the only way to settle the difficulty it is said.

Germany has the second largest cotton spinning industry in Europe, the company of the city of Bremen, that empire had 8,845,000 spindles, but now it has over 10,000,000, an increase of 200,000 per annum.

Work On Last Tuberculosis Ward

Foundations For the Third Building of the Sanitarium Are Nearly Ready For Carpenters—Much Progress on Administration Building and Women's Ward—4,500 Feet of Pipe Required.

At the Post place, off West Thames street, the New London county sanitarium for the care of patients afflicted with tuberculosis has been progressing steadily and rapidly, and in the past month the appearance of the place has changed much. On the east incident ward, which will be devoted to the care of women patients in the early stages of the disease, the roof has all been shingled and the walls are in, with the exception of the front side with the southern exposure. The greatest progress has been with the administration building, which is three stories in height in front and two stories in the rear and is located in the central building between the two wards for advanced cases. A month ago the contractor had men working on the foundations, and now the frame is up, a good part of the shingling of the roof and some shingling on the sides of the building have been done, and a decorative cupola has been placed in position. Just now the cupola is adorned by the branch of a tree nailed up there by a humorous employe.
The brick fireplaces for the front section of the administration building, on the first floor, which will contain offices and reception rooms, have been put in and the masons are just finishing up one of the concrete chimneys.

There are about fifty men employed on the whole job, about twenty of whom are carpenters under the direction of Foreman Phillips. There has been some delay owing to the failure of the masons to arrive in time, but the work is going up rapidly.

On the west ward, which will be for men, the masons are nearly through with the pier and foundation work, so that the walls will be in a position to begin the carpentering work on this third and last building of the plant in a few days.

From the aspect water supply the sanitarium has presented quite a job, as it will be necessary to lay approximately 4,500 feet of pipe before all of the water connections are made. Six inch pipe is used to connect with the city main in West Thames street, while the various branches are of four inch pipe.
The six inch pipe has been laid for sanitation and the excavating and laying of the rest of the pipe is well along, and is being completed rapidly.

Into the central building and the women's shack in the water ward, a steam pipe and the digging is now for the third building. About the grounds, too, a dozen hydrants are to be located for the purpose of fire protection, and also of supplying water, and these entail much excavating. Considerable rock has been struck about the place, so that blasting has not been infrequently necessary.

As yet there has been little opportunity for the starting of the installing of the steam heating apparatus.

A member of the state tuberculosis commission was in Norwich last week and inspected the work at the plant, and it appears that with the present rate of progress the whole job could pretty nearly be completed in two months.

While it is understood that a number of applications have been received for positions on the staff of the new institution, it is stated that no appointments have yet been made.

JOHN F. GLEASON FOUND DEAD AT POST.

Cerebral Hemorrhage the Cause While at Work at International Silver Company's Plant.

Early Monday morning John F.
Gleason died suddenly at the plant of the International Silver Company, where he was employed as night watchman. Medical Examiner E. W.
Howes pronounced death due to cerebral hemorrhage.

For two years Mr. Gleason had been in poor health and had been advised not to go to work Sunday evenings, but he felt well and went on account of not feeling well.

John F. Gleason, fireman for the company, discovered Mr. Gleason lying on the floor in the boiler room between 4 and 5 o'clock Monday morning. Dr.
F. Chas. Casady was summoned and found that the man was dead. He had evidently fallen from his chair but a short time before the arrival of Mr.
Aldrich. The body was taken to the home of the deceased at No. 238 West Main street.

Mr. Gleason had been employed by the Silver company as night watchman for some time. He had resided in this city for 42 years. He belonged to Court Salem No. 1, and was a member of the Watrous association, made up of employees of the silver company.

He was married in Jewett City to Miss Donagan by Rev. Under Russell.
He leaves his wife and three children.
Mrs. A. J. Murphy of Providence, John Gleason of Plainville, and Joseph Gleason of Boston. There are also three grand children.

Mr. Gleason was well known in this city and was well liked for his many fine qualities. His death is the source of great regret to all who knew him.

TAKEN TO COUNTY HOME.

Three of Johnson Children Placed There by Constable Stanton—Mother Will Care for Two.

Continuing his protecting care over the destinies of the five colored Johnson children, whom he successfully fed with milk and honey, Constable George H. Stanton on Monday saw that the three oldest children, aged 7, 1 and 5, were taken to the county home. The mother, Mrs. Johnson, who had returned from Westerly, where she had gone to see about a relocation of her home and she will take care of the two youngest, her brood, aged two years and one. George Johnson, the husband, who left home without notifying anyone of his destination, has not been heard from since his departure.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Strong Opening Bill Greeted by Large Crowds.

Big houses at both afternoon and evening performances greeted the exciting performance of the Auditorium Monday afternoon and evening. The opening of the season. The Boston Comedy Four were the first to appear, and their long list of jokes, which were all good. The boys are particularly good in harmony and much applause for their work in the first act. The second act was a troupe of original tumbling and acrobatic dancing turn which is full of thriller.

An especially good hair-raising act is presented by Mr.
Schrock, when a long list of jokes from a chair placed on top of three high tables, the whole stand swaying considerably before the fall. Clifton and Taylor are no small attractions, and are winning much applause for their clever comedy singing and talking. The 101-Hison feature film is one of the best ever shown here.

The Auditorium is under the same efficient employees and management as last season.

FUNERAL.

Mrs. Mary Shea.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Shea, wife of Patrick Shea, formerly of Canterbury, was held Tuesday morning with a high mass at St. Mary's church.
The mass was celebrated at 8:30 by Rev.
Alexander C. Wollschlaeger. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery. The bearers were John M. Callahan, John C.
Geary, Edward S. Neilan, Joseph P.
Kennedy, Thomas E. Donohue and Daniel Sullivan of Norwich. The flowers were Capt. Lawrence H. Gross and Leo Fournier.

Broadway Trees Removed.

Tree Warden Henry Davis was busy Monday taking down the two trees on Broadway, one a swamp maple and the other a elm. The addition of the two to the common place, where it will undoubtedly be appreciated.

Fireman Hadley Out of Doors.

F. J. Hadley, the injured fireman of the train wreck, is able to sit out of doors. He is recovering rapidly from the effect of his very severe injuries.

Chins offers an enormous field for the plumbers and manufacturers of plumbing supplies.

SWIM FROM NORWICH TO NEW LONDON

Harry Eliensky, Who Weighs 265 Pounds, to Start from Here This Morning.

Buster Eliensky, New London's premier swimmer and champion husky will try to swim from Norwich to New London today if conditions are favorable. Eliensky plans to leave Norwich at 4:40 this morning for New London.

Eliensky's starting point in this city will be Central wharf. He will stop off the public landing in New London if he makes the journey down without disaster. This will be a swim of some 13 miles.

Eliensky weighs 265 pounds, expects to make the swim in about nine hours. He will be followed by two boats in charge of Capt. Charles Weyant. The boats are used in case Eliensky is fatigued and unable to finish the swim.

Eliensky is New London's original human fish. He stays in the water at least an hour at a time and relishes every minute. The colder the water the better he is never as happy as when it is rough.

One night two summers ago Eliensky went in for his daily dip or rather daily flood. Coming out he was tired and he lay on the beach. Slumber overtook him and the sun was going down for the day when he woke up next morning.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Edward P. Shaw.

The following news of interest is taken from the Newburyport, Mass., News:

"After a lingering illness, Mrs. Edward P. Shaw passed away at her home in Brookline, Mass., this morning. Mrs. Shaw was born in Bath, Maine, and resided in this city for several years.
